CGR - MURDER (OO: Atlanta)

Re Atlanta teletypes to Director 6/22/62 and 6/24/62.

For information of the FBI Laboratory, at approximately 8:00 a.m., 6/22/62, JOSEPH VALACHI, inmate register #82811-A, an inmate at the USP, Atlanta, assaulted fellow inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, register #78776-A, by slipping up behind him and striking him about the right temple bone with a weapon consisting of 3/4" galvanized water pipe to which was attached a broken brass water faucet having round flange approximately 3/4" protruding around the base of the faucet. Overall length of the weapon was 2'4". This blow knocked SAUPP down, bending the right side bar of his eye glasses and apparently rendering him unconscious, whereupon VALACHI continued to strike him about the head and face while he was on the ground inflicting fatal injury to the brain caused by multiple skull fractures in the frontal area of the skull from temple to temple and facial bones. Victim was taken to the U. S. Public Health Hospital immediately, which hospital is within the walls of the institution. A specialist in neurosurgery was called from Atlanta and on the following day surgery was performed in an effort to save victim's life. Victim, however, died at 5:20 a.m., 6/24/62, without having ever regained consciousness. This assault occurred within the walls of the USP in an outdoor area near the point where a new building is under construction.

11. One pair white canvas rubber worn by subject VALACHI at time of assault.

It is desired that the FBI Laboratory ascertain the group type of bloodstains appearing on the assault weapon described above in this case and verify that the stains are human blood.

It is desired that item #2, eye glass bar which is bent and ascertain if the tool marks or indentations appearing on this side bar contain residue from the faucet affixed to the end of the weapon in an effort to establish that the eye glass was bent with the weapon.

Will examine item #3, broken dental for bloodstains thereon to ascertain if stains are of group type as blood on weapon.

Re item #4, will examine the cotton gauze undershirt worn by victim SAUPP at time of assault to examine bloodstains thereon to establish the blood group of victim and for comparison with other bloodstains on items submitted herewith.

Re item #5, will examine blue denim trousers worn by victim SAUPP for the presence of bloodstains those found if possible should be given group type comparison with blood extracted from gauze under other items submitted herewith.

AT 70-1965

Re item #6, will examine blue cotton work shirt worn by subject VALACHI with particular reference to certain small spots appearing to be bloodstains resulting from spattering from victim's head at time of assault. If sufficient quantity exists, perform blood group tests for comparison with other bloodstains on victim's body.

Re item #7, will similarly examine blue denim trousers worn by subject for bloodstains and group testing if sufficient quantity exists.

Re item #8, will examine cotton handkerchief taken from right hip pocket of trousers worn by subject VALACHI for bloodstains.

Will examine item #9, gauze undershirt worn by subject VALACHI at time of assault for possible bloodstains.

Re item #10, will similarly examine this pair of cotton shorts for the presence of bloodstains.

Re item #11, will examine white canvas shoes worn by VALACHI at time of alleged assault for presence of bloodstains or other stains that might be of value as evidence.

The USA, Atlanta, requests that these examinations be expedited as he hopes to bring VALACHI to trial for first degree murder during the month of July, 1962.

When these examinations have been completed, the various items of evidence submitted herewith should be returned to the Atlanta Division.

DETAILS:

AT ATLANTA, GEORGIA

At 8:30 a.m. on June 22, 1962, [REDACTED] U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, telephonically advised the Atlanta Division that approximately at 8:00 a.m., that morning, inmate JOSEPH VALACHI, Register #82811-A, had slipped up behind inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, aka, Register #78776-A, and without warning, had struck him about the right temporal bone, inflicting serious indented fractures, and had thereafter, struck Victim SAUPP several more blows to the face and head, crushing in the front of the skull and face bones, this being done after SAUPP was on the ground unconscious. [redacted] stated that Victim had been immediately removed to the U. S. Public Health Service, situated within the walls of the institution, and that an examining physician had little hope that SAUPP would survive.

[redacted] further stated that if SAUPP's condition warranted and he lived until the following day, Saturday, June 23, 1962, that [redacted], a Neuro Surgeon of Atlanta, would be called to perform surgery on Victim in an effort to save his life.

The facts in this case were discussed with Assistant U. S. Attorney J. ROBERT SPARKS, Northern District of Georgia, who authorized prosecution, but stated he did not desire to have a complaint filed, as he intended to present the case to the Federal Grand Jury, which was to be impaneled in Atlanta, Georgia, on June 24, 1962.

Date June 28, 1962

[redacted] was interviewed at the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, where he is serving a sentence as an inmate, concerning his knowledge of the assault upon inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP by inmate JOSEPH VALACHI earlier that day. The interview was conducted in the presence of [redacted] who had previously discussed this matter with [redacted]. [redacted] was told that he was not compelled to furnish any information unless he desired to do so voluntarily, and that no promises could be made to him to induce him to furnish any information. [redacted] stated that he had no objection to discussing the matter, and a signed statement was prepared, which was written by Special Agent [redacted] in the presence of Special Agent [redacted], [redacted] having left the room after [redacted] had orally related the content of this statement in his presence.

"Atlanta, Georgia

"Shortly after eight o'clock, a.m., June 22, 1962, I was standing next to the bleachers on the Recreation Field. I saw JOSEPH VALACHI, whom I know well on sight, walk up behind inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, who was standing about forty to fifty feet from me. SAUPP had his back turned to VALACHI. VALACHI had what appeared to be a length of iron pipe, which I saw VALACHI raise and strike SAUPP on the right side of his head in the area of his right temple. SAUPP fell to the ground after this first blow, and immediately thereafter, VALACHI hit him several more times about the head. He, VALACHI, appeared to be in a rage and was taking full arm swings when delivering these blows.

"There were some sixty or more other inmates in the immediate area. They all seemed angry at VALACHI for such a brutal sneak attack from behind his back. They, the other inmates, yelled at VALACHI, but none interceded to help SAUPP. Most of the other witnesses were Colored inmates. None of the witnesses, either Colored or white, are known to me.

"It was two or three minutes before an officer arrived at the scene. [redacted] was the first to arrive. b6 b7C

"In the meanwhile, VALACHI had left the scene and went toward the Construction Office.

"I have had exhibited to me a piece of iron pipe with a faucet on one end, which I recognized as the weapon which VALACHI used to assault SAUPP, and I have initialed a tag attached to it."

After the above statement was written in [redacted] presence, setting forth information as furnished by him, [redacted] read the statement and stated that it was true, but that he did not care to sign same at this time.

JOSEPH VALACHI was interviewed at the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, concerning the assault which he allegedly made upon inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP at approximately 8:00 a.m., June 22, 1962, on the Recreation Field and within the walls of the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, VALACHI being an inmate of that institution. Before any questions were asked of VALACHI, he was advised that he was not compelled to make a statement of any nature unless he desired to do so freely and voluntarily, and that any statement he did make would be used against him in Court. He was advised that no threats or promises of any kind would be made to him to induce him to make a statement, and that he had a right to consult an attorney if he so desired before making any statement. VALACHI was advised of his rights as set forth above in the presence of [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted]

VALACHI, after being so advised of his rights, stated that under the circumstances, he did not care to discuss the matter at all with interviewing Agents. The interview was then terminated.

AT 70-1965

On June 23, 1962, [redacted] advised that SAUPP was undergoing surgery on that day by [redacted], a Contract Neuro Surgeon of the U. S. Public Health Service, Atlanta, Georgia, and that his condition was still extremely critical.

At 6:00 a.m., June 24, 1962, SA [redacted] was telephonically notified by [redacted] U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, that Victim JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP had died at 5:20 a.m., that date. Agent [redacted] proceeded to the U. S. Penitentiary, where he interviewed [redacted] acting in the absence of [redacted] who was out of the City.

[redacted] General Crimes Section, U. S. Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., informed [redacted] that the matter would require some research, and that he would render such an opinion in the near future, but that [redacted] should, under the circumstances, request [redacted] to proceed with this autopsy as a matter of courtesy to the Department. [redacted], thereupon, telephonically communicated with [redacted], and [redacted] agreed to do so. He did perform the autopsy later that date, and stated he would submit his report and photographs at the earliest possible date.

During the interview with [redacted] on June 24, 1962, [redacted] stated that [redacted] is an eminent Neuro Surgeon of Atlanta and had been called in to perform surgery on Victim SAUPP on the preceeding date. [redacted] stated that the body of Victim SAUPP had been removed on the morning of June 24, 1962, to the Undertaking Parlor of Contract Undertaker [redacted], East Point, Georgia.

[redacted] further stated that he had notified a [redacted] Victim SAUPP, [redacted] who was listed as the person he desired notified in case of emergency. [redacted] later obtained instructions from SAUPP's [redacted], directing that the body be shipped to the Victim's former residence in Ohio.

On June 25, 1962, [] advised Agent [] that he had had three interviews with Subject VALACHI since VALACHI's appearance for interview by FBI Agents on the afternoon of June 22, 1962, and that VALACHI had, on each occasion, admitted to him that he was the person who assaulted SAUPP, but that VALACHI was vacillating in his statements concerning the motive for doing so. One statement was that SAUPP was not the person he intended to assault. Thereafter, he stated that SAUPP was the person he meant to assault, and that SAUPP had been responsible for most of his trouble and intimated that SAUPP was the cause of him being accused of being a "rat." [] stated, however, that he was unable to elicit any further explanations. On the last of these interviews, VALACHI said, "They were after me, and I got one of them first." [] stated that VALACHI would not identify to whom he referred with the word they, nor did he explain his motive for the assault.

[] stated that he had removed VALACHI from general population for his own safety and for the possible safety of others, but that VALACHI was confined to the Associate Warden's Building, and was placed in a comfortable cell on the second floor, equipped with bed and reading material, and that he had full privileges, regular diet and was allowed cigarettes and writing material if he so desired, that he definitely was not in punishment status and would not be placed on punishment status pending disposition of his case by the Court.

"VALACHI Seemed excited and had a galv. pipe about (3') three feet with a flanged spigot and blood on it. He said, "officer do something those people have gone crazy." As I approached VALACHI, I noted a crowd of inmates near stadium (Seating area), waving their hands and yelling. I asked VALACHI two or three times for pipe and He backed away saying, "I may need it." I grasp ___ his arm and took the pipe.

"I was assigned to relieve the regular stadium officer on the day shift for the period 0800A.M.-4:30 P.M. June 22, 1962.

"I arrived at the stadium office at 8:00 A.M. and proceeded with normal routine. About 8:15 A.M. a inmate (colored) ran into the stadium office and shouted for me to call the hospital, that a man had been hit in the head.

AT 70-1965

"He further stated "they" were taking him to the hospital. He immediantly turned and ran from the office. I was unable to get his name or number.

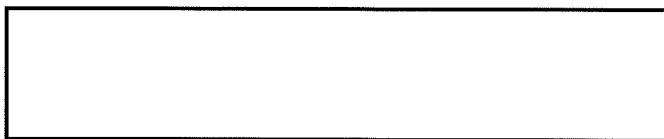

"I notified the hospital and proceeded to the place of occurrence of the incident. The victim had been removed. I observed a large pool of blood and the lower portion of what appeared to be false teeth, about 15 ft. east of the end of the bleachers on the east end and of the cement sidewalk.

"I returned to the office and called [redacted] On returning to the point of the incident I discovered that sand had been placed on the blood.

"I attempted to determine if anyone of the inmates in the area had witnessed the incident. I had no postive results.

"VALACHI - Reg. No. 82811

"At approximately 8: 0'clock AM this date Inmate VALACHI, Reg. No. 82811 walked up the east drive with a water pipe in his hand.

"I was standing in front of the Industries Construction Toilet, near the scrap pile, with when VALACHI held the pipe out to us. I thought nothing odd about this as it is not unnatural for men to come to this scrap pile to throw old pipe, etc. away.

"At this same time a crowd of inmates called to me to come to the yard, and seeing them in a huddle I ran down to the east end of the spin mill on the east drive and saw inmate SAUPP, Reg. No. 78776, laying on the pavement with his head in a pool of blood, his face covered with blood. I called for a stretcher from the construction tool room, but some of the inmates from the stadium got there first with a stretcher. I had him taken to the hospital at once.

"I asked some of the inmates, "who hit him?" and they answered saying, "the man who brought the pipe to you." I returned to the construction office where VALACHI was still standing and asked him why he had hit the other man and he answered saying, "I just went crazy."

AT 70-1965

"While taking VALACHI to A. W. B. he asked me if the other man was dead. I told him, "just about," and he said, "good." I arrived at A. W. B. at 8:11 am with VALACHI.

"At about 8:00 A.M. I was near the phone on the ramp when I noticed a group of inmates back of the bleachers near the handball court. "At 8:11 AM this morning [] and [] escorted inmate VALACHI, 82811-A into my office and informed me that VALACHI had just hit another inmate several times on the head and in the face with a piece of pipe. They handed me the pipe.

"I questioned VALACHI on the spot. He was quite agitated, but perfectly coherent. He had had a hysterical episode earlier in the week, turning himself into administrative segregation. I had talked with him at length at that time regarding his problems which he alluded were caused by, as he stated, being Branded.

"He refused to make any other statement at that time and as he became relaxed and agreed that he would be able to get along, I released him to the population on Tuesday.

"When I asked him this morning why he had assaulted this man he made only the statement that this was the man who had caused him all of his troubles. He would make no further statement regarding the assault except that he would talk to the authorities (F.B.I.). He was some what vague and indefinite in his talk, saying in answers to questions that he accepted all of the responsibility, that it was not the institution who was at fault or me when he referred to as a "Very nice man." I gained the impression here was a man who had committed a deliberate act and trying to enlist me as a representative in his behalf. I placed him into Adm. Seg. and the Capt. & I went to the Hosp. where we identified the victim as SAUPP #78776.

"I later questioned VALACHI again and he went into a long involved story about his case & that the cause of the trouble was that one member of a group he would never quite identify had put him down as a rat. The man he tried to kill though was not this man. He wanted to leave that man live so that when his persecutors found out the truth the evidence would still be around to deal with. His allusion here was that he had sacrificed an innocent human being.

AT 70-1965

"I interviewed [redacted] who gave various theories on his actions. [redacted] stated he was completely normal and he had noticed no tenseness in VALACHI. [redacted] a case par (illegible) claimed he had been upset and not himself, worried and mumbling at times that he had to get out of here.

[redacted] told me that VALACHI had told him he wanted to see the Ch. of Narcotic division, N. Y. C. His time was a major worry to VALACHI.

"I interviewed him again later in the day & at this time he was concerned about the condition of SAUPP for the 1st time and tried to enlist my promise that he would be taken away from this place.

"When interviewed by the F. B. I. he refused to make any kind of a statement, saying only he would talk to his lawyer.

"VALACHI leaves me with the impression that he is a cool, calculating and vicious [redacted] with the intent to confuse the circumstances surrounding this incident - its causes and results. He impresses me as a man much more intelligent than his I. Q. would indicate.

"I have interviewed as many of the inmates the officers could identify as being in the area. They all refuse to admit seeing anything except one [redacted] who says he saw VALACHI come from behind and strike SAUPP in the head with a pipe and knock him down with the 1st blow and then strike him several more blows. Says no one intervened, only hollered, Says he was 40 to 50 ft. away and that he heard no words spoken.

"When interviewed by F. B. I. he talked freely as above but refused to make a statement.

"I received info that [redacted] [redacted] VALACHI and SAUPP had been seen walking & talking with SAUPP a few minutes before the assault. He told me when interviewed that SAUPP was relaxed & his usual talkative self. He described SAUPP as a fun loving man who liked to joke. [] says he feels sure SAUPP had no premonition of trouble.

AT 70-1965

"This is all of the information I can give you at this time. I will continue to keep you informed verbally as I have from the start as I get info. I feel we will get little help from the inmates because of their fear of repercussions from the element this man VALACHI represents.

"I have nothing but commendations for all of our people who came into contact with this incident and the immediate & business like response of the Medical Department - and the inmates - except the inmates willingness to talk.

"I collected both inmates clothing and the weapon & identified & turned it over the F. B. I.

[redacted] advised that he (VALACHI) was now ready to talk with him. He further stated to me that he was not going to eat another bit of food until [redacted] had seen him. I advised that if he refused to eat it would probably be necessary to force-feed him. He then started that he would eat just a little bit until [redacted] got here.

"I advised VALACHI that [redacted] would hardly make a trip to Atlanta without further information as to what he wanted to talk with him about. VALACHI refused to elaborate or to state any reasons why he needed to see [redacted]. This was the extent of our conversation, and upon terminating the interview, I notified [redacted] that the inmate wanted to see [redacted] but would give no reason for it. 1. The assault weapon described above which contains blood stains on the brass faucet.
2. A pair of eye glasses worn by victim SAUPP at the time he was assaulted, the right side bar being bent apparently as a result of blow to right temple described as the first blow struck by Subject.
3. One lower dental plate bloodstained and broken which was knocked from victim's mouth during the assault.
4. One cotton gauze undershirt worn by victim SAUPP at the time of assault, this garment heavily bloodstained.
5. One pair of blue denim bloodstained trousers worn by victim SAUPP at time of assault and one web belt, khaki color, attached thereto.
6. One blue cotton work shirt worn by Subject VALACHI at time he allegedly assaulted victim SAUPP. Shirt bears what appear to be several spattered bloodstains.
7. One pair blue denim trousers worn by Subject VALACHI on June 22, 1962, at time he allegedly assaulted victim SAUPP.
8. One white cotton handkerchief removed from right hip pocket of trousers worn by Subject VALACHI immediately after the alleged assault.

this unnamed inmate and inmate, Sir Name [] had witnessed [redacted] informant stated that he saw VALACHI strike SAUPP from behind his back, knock him down and VALACHI, then, dropped the pipe, with which he hit him, down to the ground, but as he turned to leave the scene, he saw SAUPP move, struggling on the ground, and that he picked up the pipe and proceeded to beat him over the head several more times, until SAUPP lay still.

On June 26, 1962, the facts in this case, as known of that date, were presented to a Federal Grand Jury, sitting at Atlanta, Georgia, and a true bill of indictment was returned charging VALACHI with Crime on a Government Reservation - Murder in the First Degree.

An appropriate writ was issued by the U. S. Attorney's Office to cause the release of VALACHI for appearance in the U. S. District Court before Honorable BOYD SLOAN, U. S. District Judge, on June 27, 1962, for arraignment.

VALACHI was arraigned before Judge SLOAN on June 27, 1962, whereupon, he entered a plea of not guilty and informed the Court that he did not desire to have Court appointed counsel, that he preferred to employ counsel of his own choosing, namely an attorney of New York City.

Judge SLOAN, on that date, issued a written order directing the Warden of the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, to permit VALACHI to make a long-distance telephone call to the attorney of his choice in New York City.

Thereafter, VALACHI was returned to the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, where the order of Judge SLOAN was honored, and [redacted] permitted VALACHI to talk with his attorney with no one present or listening in to the conversation in any manner whatsoever.

At the conclusion of the conversation, VALACHI summoned [redacted] and [redacted] back into the private office, where he held the conversation, and informed them that [redacted] would appear for a visit with him on July 3, 1962, to discuss the matter of his defense. [redacted] and [redacted] stated that such a visit would be approved and granted and so informed VALACHI.

AT 70-1965

On the afternoon of June 27, 1962, Assistant U. S. Attorney J. ROBERT SPARKS telephonically advised the Atlanta Division that Judge SLOAN has placed this case on the calendar trial to be disposed of at Atlanta, Georgia, on July 23, 1962, and that a special panel of 100 prospective jurors was being summoned for appearance on that date. Mr. SPARKS requested, therefore, that this case receive continuous and expeditious attention, so that it may be adequately prepared for trial by that date.

The Official U. S. Penitentiary file regarding JOSEPH VALACHI, aka Anthony Sogge, Joseph Valechi, Charles Charbano, Register #82811-A, was reviewed and reflects that VALACHI was last convicted on June 3, 1960, in the Eastern District of New York, Brooklyn, and sentenced to fifteen years, Case number Cr 45569, and fined $10,000.00 for violation of the Narcotics Laws, receiving, concealing and sales in violation of Title 21, Section 174, U. S. Code, and Title 13, Section 2, U. S. Code.

On February 13, 1962, VALACHI was again arraigned in the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York and was sentenced to serve twenty years to run concurrently with the fifteen year sentence imposed on March 6, 1960, for the offense of violation of the Narcotics Laws and conspiracy in violation of Title 21, Section 173 and 144, U. S. Code, thus making his total sentence to be served as twenty-one years, eight months and ten days, beginning as of June 3, 1960. He was committed to the U. S. Penitentiary originally on June 17, 1960, and was removed to New York on writ of habeas corpus ad Pros and was returned to the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, on February 15, 1962, where he has been continuously confined since that day. His sentence with "Good Time" allowed will expire on December 28, 1974, and his full term will expire on February 12, 1982. He is not eligible for parole due to the nature of his conviction, namely Narcotics violation. VALACHI has been assigned to work at the U. S. Penitentiary in the Tailor Shop.

The following is personal history appearing in the Classification Study prepared on VALACHI at the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, on the date July 14, 1960:

"He was born in New York City to DOMINICK and MARY VALACHI, Italian immigrants. Both parents are dead. VALACHI is one of six children born to his parents.

b6

"Subject attended school and has lived in the New York area all of his life. He claims to have completed the seventh grade. The employment history in this case is that of a cook, amusement company owner and in 1954, he claims to have been half-owner of a negligee and dress company. The records indicate that Subject's major income came from the sales of narcotics.

"VALACHI has an extensive prior record, dating back to 1918, including arrests for such offenses as robbery, extortion, burglary, assault, policy, carrying a pistol and narcotics violations. He served two short sentences for burglary in 1923 and 1925 and received a five-year sentence for narcotics sales in the Southern District of New York in 1955.

"There is no record of Subject's adjustment while serving his prison sentences."

The following comment appears on page four of the same Classification Study:

"The criminal record in this case dates back to 1918, when Subject was sent to the Catholic Protectory. Then, in 1921, for burglary, a charge against him was dismissed. In 1921 for petit larceny, he was discharged on his own recognizance. On November 10, 1921, for carrying a concealed weapon, he received a $100.00 fine and was placed on probation. In 1922, for robbery, the charge was dismissed. Again in 1923, another robbery charge was dismissed. In 1923, for disorderly conduct, he was sent to the Workhouse for ten days in Manhattan. Then, in 1923, again for attempted burglary, he received a 15 months to two and one-half year sentence and was paroled from this sentence in August, 1924. In November, 1924, for burglary in New York, he received a three-year sentence. In 1929, for assault and robbery, he was dismissed. In 1925, for attempted extortion, the charges were dismissed. In 1936, a charge of robbery was dismissed and again in 1936, for policy making, he received a suspended sentence. In 1944, for a narcotic law violation, in the Eastern District of New York, the charges were dismissed. In 1948, for investigation of Narcotics in Baltimore, Maryland, the charge was dismissed. In 1955, for conspiracy to violate the Federal Narcotic Laws, he received a five-year sentence and $10,000.00 fine; this sentence was reversed by Appeals Court.

"Subject was committed to the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, on May 18, 1956, and was released on bail from this institution on May 23, 1956.

"The records indicate that VALACHI was one of the group of persons who conspired to violate the Narcotics Laws. He was a wholesale distributor of narcotic drugs throughout the United States, and he is considered a notorious narcotic trafficker. VALACHI possessed more than ample financial means and that he was well acquainted with many top underworld characters in New York City and other cities in Canada. VALACHI was a fugitive from justice in this case, was arrested at Tomaston, Connecticut, on November 18, 1959. On November 19, 1959, VALACHI was removed to New York for trial. Bail was set in the amount of $50,000.00 on November 20, 1959. Bail was reduced to $25,000.00. He failed to appear for sentencing on February 19, 1960, and again became a fugitive."

The Official U. S. Personnel File regarding JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, Register #78776A, aka John Frank Hanson, John Shulgay, John J. Saupp, John Joseph Shupp, John Saupp, was reviewed and reflected that SAUPP was last convicted on May 17, 1957, in the Northern District of Ohio, Cleveland, Ohio, Case number Cr 22307, for the offense of removing content from letter, stolen from authorized depository, sentenced five years same date, same Court, consecutive sentence of five years imposed, Case number Cr 22308, for possessing and making forged and counterfeit securities. On the same date, same Court, SAUPP received a third five-year sentence to run consecutively to the two preceeding sentences, Case number Cr 22317, charging possession of check stolen from U. Specimens retained 6/28/62

- Q1 Pipe used to strike victim
- Q2 Eyeglasses of victim
- Q3 Lower dental plate of victim

CLOTHING OF VICTIM:

- Q4 Undershirt
- Q5 Blue denim trousers

CLOTHING OF SUBJECT:

- Q6 Work shirt
- Q7 Blue denim trousers
- Q8 Cotton handkerchief
- Q9 Undershirt
- Q10 Cotton undershorts
- Q11 Pair of shoes

Results of examination:

70 - 35395 - 6

Group "O" human blood was identified on the Q3 dental plate of the victim and on the Q4 and Q5 items of the victim's clothing. The reddish-brown stains on the Q1 pipe were also found to consist of group "O" human blood. Human blood which was too limited in amount for grouping purposes was identified on the right shoulder area of the Q6 shirt, on the lower portion of the right leg of the Q7 trousers and on the top portions of both shoes in specimen Q11. No blood was identified on specimens Q2 and Q8 through Q10.

The toolmarks on the right arm of the Q2 eyeglasses were compared microscopically with test marks made with specimen Q1 but it was not possible to determine whether or not Q1 marked Q2.

While a microscopic examination of Q2 revealed numerous extremely small brass-colored particles in the area of the damage to the right bow, the particles were too small for adequate comparison with Q1.

(OO: Atlanta)

6/24/62. Re Atlanta teletypes to Director 6/22/62 and

For information of the FBI Laboratory, at approximately 8:00 a.m., 6/22/62, JOSEPH VALACHI, inmate register #82811-A, an inmate at the USP, Atlanta, assaulted fellow inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, register #78776-A, by slipping up behind him and striking him about the right temple bone with a weapon consisting of 3/4" galvanized water pipe to which was attached a broken brass water faucet having round flange approximately 3/4" protruding around the base of the faucet. Overall length of the weapon was 2'4". This blow knocked SAUPP down, bending the right side bar of his eye glasses and apparently rendering him unconscious, whereupon VALACHI continued to strike him about the head and face while he was on the ground inflicting fatal injury to the brain caused by multiple skull fractures in the frontal area of the skull from temple to temple and facial bones. Victim was taken to the U. S. Public Health Hospital immediately, which hospital is within the walls of the institution. A specialist in neurosurgery was called from Atlanta and on the following day surgery was performed in an effort to save victim's life. Victim, however, died at 5:20 a.m., 6/24/62, without having ever regained consciousness. This assault occurred within the walls of the USP in an outdoor area near the point where a new building is under construction.

There are being sent under separate cover by registered mail the following items of physical evidence:

1. The assault weapon described above which contains blood stains on the brass faucet
2. A pair of eye glasses worn by victim SAUPP at the time he was assaulted, the right side bar being bent apparently as a result of blow to right temple described as the first blow struck by subject.
3. One lower dental plate bloodstained and broken which was knocked from victim's mouth during the assault.
4. One cotton gauze undershirt worn by victim SAUPP at the time of assault, this garment heavily bloodstained.
5. One pair of blue denim bloodstained trousers worn by victim SAUPP at time of assault and one web belt, khaki color, attached thereto.
6. One blue cotton work shirt worn by subject VALACHI at time he allegedly assaulted victim SAUPP. Shirt bears what appear to be several spattered bloodstains.
7. One pair blue denim trousers worn by subject VALACHI on 6/22/62 at time he allegedly assaulted victim SAUPP.
8. One white cotton handkerchief removed from right hip pocket of trousers worn by subject VALACHI immediately after the alleged assault.

70-1965-118

AT 70-1965

9. One cotton gauze undershirt stencilled "32 X 133" worn by subject VALACHI at time he allegedly assaulted victim SAUPP.
10. One pair white cotton shorts bearing register #82311 worn by subject VALACHI at time he allegedly assaulted victim SAUPP.
11. One pair white canvas rubber-soled shoes worn by subject VALACHI at time of alleged assault.

It is desired that the FBI Laboratory examine the assault weapon described above in this communication, ascertain the group type of bloodstains appearing thereon and verify that the stains are human blood.

It is desired that item #2, eye glasses worn by victim SAUPP, be examined, particularly the right side bar which is bent and ascertain if the tool marks or indentations appearing on this side bar contain fragments or residue from the faucet affixed to the end of assault weapon in an effort to establish that the eye glasses were bent with the weapon.

Will examine item #3, broken dental plate, for bloodstains thereon to ascertain if stains are same group type as blood on weapon.

Re item #4, will examine the cotton gauze undershirt worn by victim SAUPP at time of assault, will examine bloodstains thereon to establish the blood grouping of victim and for comparison with other bloodstains appearing on items submitted herewith.

Re item #5, will examine blue denim trousers worn by victim SAUPP for the presence of bloodstains and those found if possible should be given group tests for comparison with blood extracted from gauze under shirt and other items submitted herewith.

AT 70-1965

Re item #6, will examine blue cotton work shirt worn by subject VALACHI with particular reference to certain small spots appearing to be bloodstains resulting from spattering from victim's head at time of assault. If sufficient quantity exists, perform blood group tests for comparison with other bloodstains on victim's body.

Re item #7, will similarly examine blue denim trousers worn by subject for bloodstains and group testing if sufficient quantity exists.

Re item #8, will examine cotton handkerchief taken from right hip pocket of trousers worn by subject VALACHI for bloodstains.

Will examine item #9, gauze undershirt worn by subject VALACHI at time of assault for possible bloodstains.

Re item #10, will similarly examine this pair of cotton shorts for the presence of bloodstains.

Re item #11, will examine white canvas shoes worn by VALACHI at time of alleged assault for presence of bloodstains or other stains that might be of value as evidence.

The USA, Atlanta, requests that these examinations be expedited as he hopes to bring VALACHI to trial for first degree murder during the month of July, 1962.

When these examinations have been completed, the various items of evidence submitted herewith should be returned to the Atlanta Division.

Marshal to take JOSEPH VALACHI, inmate, U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia. Inmate Register Number 82811-A. to the office of [] Psychiatrist, [] for psychiatric examination, on the morning of July 9, 1962, and that [] would render an immediate report as to his findings concerning the sanity of VALACHI and furnish copies of his report to defense counsel and the U. S. Attorney.

On July 6, 1962, [] U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, advised that [] New York City, had written a letter to VALACHI stating that VALACHI's family was insisting that he represent VALACHI, and that VALACHI had since written a letter on July 6, 1962, requesting [] to visit him at the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, for consultation re his defense.

On July 10, 1962, [] advised that [] had visited him and had told [] that they were unable to employ [] as his fees were beyond their means.

On July 12, 1962, SA [] was present at the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, and observed [] reporting to that institution requesting an interview with VALACHI.

"NEUROPSYCHIATRIC REPORT"

"Name: VALACHI, JOSEPH

Date: July 11, 1962

"Subject is a short, rather heavy-set, white-haired, fifty-nine year old, white male. He was examined at this office July 9, 1962. He was amiable in manner, appeared to be under much tension, and his mood was characterized by moderate anxiety and depression. Speech was relevant and coherent; there was hesitancy and emotional blocking of speech in discussing his present difficulty.

"He related he was born September 20 or 22nd, 1903, of immigrant parents. His father died in 1931 at fifty-two years of age, he believes of alcoholism. His mother died about nineteen years ago of diabetes; she was in her seventies. He was the second of four siblings. He stated that his brother went under the name of "Frank Rocco." He has been a patient for many years in the Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Dannemora, New York. He went to see him one time, quite a few years ago; it depressed him for some months and he never went back. [redacted]

[redacted] A grandmother had been a patient in a mental hospital in Italy.

"He related he was born in Harlem, New York. He attended P.S. 83; he left in the seventh grade at fifteen years of age and got working papers. He stated that for quite a few years he was in the dress business. For the past several years he had been in the juke box machine business. He married in 1932. [redacted]

"He related he was shot in the head about 1924. He has little memory for a period of about six months. He was shot by a policeman while riding in a car with another man; he believed he had been taken to a private doctor. Six days later he was put in a Catholic hospital; from there he was transferred to Community Hospital. He related he was ill with rheumatism about 1931; he went down to about ninety pounds in weight and was under treatment in a hospital for some weeks. He stated he was cut across the left chest while in Sing-Sing prison in the late 20's; the wound required thirty-eight stitches to close and he was hospitalized therefor. He did not know who cut him; he was in charge of a dormitory at Sing-Sing and had chased out some of the inmates when they were not supposed to be there. He stated he accidentally struck himself on the left hand with an ax during the late 30's. He related he drank heavily for a period of about nine years. It was affecting his health; his doctors instructed him to stop drinking and he complied. He stated that for several years he has been on a diet and had taken medications for diabetes. For a number of years he has been troubled with frequent dizziness.

"He related he was first sentenced to Sing-Sing for nine months when he was about eighteen for attempted burglary. He was returned the same year and served three additional years on another attempted burglary charge. He stated he had not been convicted of an offense, except the current one, since 1928. He stated that although he had been mixed up with drug addicts, he had never used narcotic drugs.

"Regarding his present sentence, he stated he was convicted to serve fifteen years in June, 1960 for conspiracy in connection with narcotics. He stated that, all-in-all, nineteen other men were involved. Two out on bail were found dead and never got to be tried; some went away; eleven of them actually went to trial. He stated that he himself plead guilty and was given a fifteen year sentence. Early this year he was tried on another narcotic charge. He plead not guilty but was found guilty. He was given a twenty year sentence, to run concurrent with his present sentence.

"Regarding his present predicament he inquired as to whether this physician knew about it. He was advised that this physician had read about it in the newspapers. Although hesitant to discuss what had happened between him and "Johnny," the deceased, he stated that Johnny had accused him; he had said that he had "ratted out two guys." He stated that he really did not want any trouble. He had gone to the Associate Warden on the Saturday before and had himself locked up on his own request. He got out on a Wednesday; this was a couple of weeks ago. He got himself locked up as the rumor was over the institution that he had "squealed" and several inmates had accused him and pointed him out. He felt his life was in danger and that he needed protection. He was so afraid he had been skipping meals and had stopped bathing for about a week. He stated that actually he was "in bad shape" when he got himself locked up; it would be hard for anyone to understand how it felt to be accused. He was in great torment because of having been "branded a rat and marked bad,"; actually the whole thing was beyond his control. For twenty-seven months in the Atlanta Penitentiary he had minded his own business and gotten along all right.

"Regarding what actually happened, he could not give much of an account; all he knew was that he was sweating like a pig; he found a pipe lying on the floor on the yard one morning, a couple of days after he was released from the Associate Warden's Building. He remembered picking up the pipe but did not remember striking Johnny. He had heard Johnny had been admitted to the hospital and that Johnny had died. He stated he was now quartered in the Associate Warden's Building, upstairs; he was satisfied there. He was having trouble with frequent dizziness and a pulling, pain in the right side of the back of his neck. His wife was coming to Atlanta that day and was to visit him.

"No hallucinatory experiences or suicidal thoughts or tendencies could be elicited. He was approximately oriented; he believed this was about the 5th or 6th day of July, 1962. He appreciated that the examiner was a physician and psychiatrist. Comprehension and memory showed no gross defects. Whether his ideas in reference to having been "called and branded a rat" were delusions or had an actual basis in fact, this examiner could not determine.

"Neurological examination revealed some swaying in the Romberg position; a coarse tremor of both upper extremities and moderate sclerosis of the radial and brachial vessels. Blood pressure was 188/96. There was a scar about six inches long over the lateral aspect of the left chest and a scar about two inches in length over the left hand. There were two depressed areas in the right parieto-occipital region of the skull, about one centimeter in diameter; these were considered to be either the result of a bullet or trephine surgery.

"Subject was seen again in the Associate Warden's Building July 10. He was initially amiable in manner and related he had had a nice visit from his wife earlier in the day. When advised that this physician would like to discuss with him further the trouble he had had a couple of weeks ago, he became quite agitated. He got out of his chair, stating, "Don't bother me. You make me nervous. Come back in a few days." Upon this, he walked out of the office, terminating the interview.

"Perusal of his central file and his medical records indicate no psychiatric treatment contacts at the Atlanta Penitentiary; upon admission he scored 85 on the U.S.P.H.S. Classification Test. The hospital records reveal he had visited the hospital on eleven occasions during the past three months and had asked for and obtained laxatives on sick line.

"Subject is suffering from a paranoid state and generalized and cerebral arteriosclerosis. Whether his paranoid state and ideas of being branded and called an informer by other inmates have any basis in fact this physician does not know. At the present time he is considered to be not psychotic. He understands the proceedings against him; he is able to intelligently advise with counsel, assist in his own defense, and stand trial.

- "DIAGNOSES: (1) Paranoid State.
(2) Generalized and Cerebral Arteriosclerosis.

Respectfully,

"HRL/1

By communication dated July 6, 1962, the FBI Laboratory furnished the following report concerning physical evidence submitted for examination in connection with this case:

"Specimens received 6/28/62

- "Q1 Pipe used to strike victim
- "Q2 Eyeglasses of victim
- "Q3 Lower dental plate of victim

"CLOTHING OF VICTIM:

- "Q4 Undershirt
- "Q5 Blue denim trousers

"CLOTHING OF SUBJECT:

- "Q6 Work shirt
- "Q7 Blue denim trousers
- "Q8 Cotton handkerchief
- "Q9 Undershirt
- "Q10 Cotton undershorts
- "Q11 Pair of shoes

"Results of examination:

"Group "O" human blood was identified on the Q3 dental plate of the victim and on the Q4 and Q5 items of the victim's clothing. The reddish-brown stains on the Q1 pipe were also found to consist of group "O" human blood. Human blood which was too limited in amount for grouping purposes was identified on the right shoulder area of the Q6 shirt, on the lower portion of the right leg of the Q7 trousers and on the top portions of both shoes in Specimen Q11.

AT 70-1965

b6
b7C

No blood was identified on Specimens Q2 and Q8 through Q10.

"The toolmarks on the right arm of the Q2 eyeglasses were compared microscopically with test marks made with specimen Q1 but it was not possible to determine whether or not Q1 marked Q2."

The Laboratory further advised:

"Special Agent [redacted] who resides at [redacted] conducted the blood examinations in this case. The toolmarks examination of the eyeglasses and the examination of the eyeglasses for material which might have come from the pipe were conducted by persons other than Agent [redacted]; however, in view of the negative results of these examinations, it is assumed that testimony relative to the eyeglasses will not be required."

The Laboratory report also contains the statement:

"While a microscopic examination of the eyeglasses of the victim revealed numerous extremely small brass-colored particles in the area of the damage to the right bow, the particles were too small for adequate comparison with the pipe used to strike victim."

at the scene of the fatal attack, the victim was lying on the pavement bleeding profusely. Before leaving the group, the victim was removed by several inmates to the penitentiary hospital on a stretcher brought to the scene by inmate [redacted] Registration Number [redacted]. With regard to any admissions made to [redacted] by subject VALACHI concerning the fatal attack on victim, [redacted] [redacted] stated that VALACHI's only comment was, "That man caused me all my trouble."

After turning the assault weapon and subject VALACHI over to [redacted] [redacted] returned to the scene of the assault but things had quieted down there and there was no indication of any further disturbance or friction among the inmates. [redacted] then proceeded to the hospital to inquire about the injured victim and it was at the hospital that the victim was identified for [redacted] as JOHN SAUPP. Obtaining the identity of the victim, [redacted] proceeded to the [redacted] Building and furnished this information to [redacted]. [redacted] then returned to the recreation area where he found things were still quiet with no further disturbance.

At about noon on June 22, 1962, inmate [redacted] Registration Number [redacted] approached [redacted] and handed [redacted] a pair of eye glasses. [redacted] told [redacted] that the eye glasses belonged to "the man that got hurt on the yard this morning." [redacted] questioned [redacted] and [redacted] claimed he saw the fatal attack, and that the victim who was attacked was wearing glasses. [redacted] told [redacted] that after helping place the injured inmate on the stretcher, he, [redacted] had picked up the glasses, turned over to [redacted] about three or four feet from where the inmate had fallen. [redacted] claimed that he had then put the glasses in his pocket where they remained until he turned them over to [redacted]. [redacted] stated that on June 22, 1962, he turned this same pair of eye glasses over to [redacted].

[redacted] was questioned concerning his knowledge of the assault upon JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, inmate, U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, Inmate Register Number 78776-A, in the recreation area of the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, on the morning of June 22, 1962.

[redacted] stated that he left the new building now under construction at the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, at approximately 8:00 a.m. on June 22, 1962, and stopped to converse with [redacted] and [redacted]

[redacted] He stated that he remained there talking with [redacted] and [redacted] for a few moments and that inmate JOSEPH VALACHI, Inmate Register Number 82811-A, approached them holding out a piece of iron pipe, indicating that he wanted them to take it.

Simultaneously, [redacted] stated, he heard loud yelling on the recreation yard of the U. S. Penitentiary and noticed inmates beckoning to him to come to them. [redacted] [redacted] stated that these inmates were roughly some 200 feet away and that possibly 50 or more in number were standing in a circle around something which he could not see from where he was standing.

[redacted] stated that he immediately ran to the scene and observed an inmate lying on the ground, with his head very bloody and a large pool of blood around him.

[redacted] stated that he immediately called for a stretcher from the Industries Building, but before that stretcher arrived inmates had secured another from the recreation field, and that he, [redacted] told the inmates to rush this man to the hospital.

[redacted] stated that while the crowd was still there he asked who hit the inmate and someone, unknown to him, stated "the man who brought the pipe to you".

[redacted] went on to say that he noted that the piece of pipe which VALACHI had brought to the officers was now lying on the ground by [redacted], who was standing guard by it.

[redacted] related that he immediately took VALACHI into custody and started walking with him to the office of [redacted], and that while on the way there he asked VALACHI why he had hit the other inmate, and that VALACHI replied "I just went crazy". Still on the way to [redacted] office, VALACHI asked if the other inmate was dead, and [redacted] stated that he replied "just about". VALACHI then said "good".

[redacted] stated that he again asked VALACHI why he had hit the other inmate and VALACHI made no reply.

[redacted] stated that he surrendered inmate JOSEPH VALACHI to [redacted] at 8:11 a.m., and that [redacted] brought the iron pipe with which SAUPP had been assaulted to [redacted] office, arriving approximately the same time.

[redacted] stated that he left [redacted] office and has had no further dealings with inmate VALACHI.

Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, Inmate Register Number 78776-A, in the recreation area of the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, on the morning of June 22, 1962.

[redacted] stated that at approximately 8:00 a.m. on June 22, 1962, he was standing outside of the building known as the construction office, which is near a new building now being built within the walls of the U. S. Penitentiary, and that he observed a crowd of inmates at the bottom of a terrace leading down to the recreation field. [redacted] stated that the inmates were yelling and making quite a commotion, and that there were probably 50 or more inmates in the crowd, and that they were approximately 200 feet away from where he was standing.

[redacted] related that approximately one minute later he saw one of the inmates walking away from the crowd, in the direction of where he, [redacted] was standing talking with [redacted] and [redacted]

[redacted] related that the inmate, whose identity he later learned was JOSEPH VALACHI, Inmate Register Number 82811-A, approached the three of them, carrying a piece of iron pipe about two and one-half feet long, and that VALACHI held out the pipe as though he desired one of them to take it. He said that VALACHI had the piece of iron pipe in his right hand, and stated to [redacted] who took the pipe, "here is the pipe I hit a fellow with. Go ahead and take me in". [redacted] stated that [redacted] then laid the pipe down and asked him, [redacted] to watch the pipe and inmate VALACHI while he went down toward the crowd of inmates, accompanied by [redacted]. [redacted] stated that VALACHI remained with him until [redacted] returned shortly to where he was standing, still watching VALACHI and the piece of pipe. He stated, however, that he had picked up the piece of pipe and was holding VALACHI, and that he then turned VALACHI over to [redacted] and [redacted] left immediately.

[redacted] U. S. Penitentiary [redacted] advised that on the morning of June 22, 1962, he was playing hand ball on the Hand Ball Court, located in the Exercise Yard, approximately 80 feet from where SAWPP was hit. He advised he had just finished playing hand ball and heard a commotion over towards the baseball diamond, and upon looking in that direction, he saw what appeared to him to be two men trying to grab an older man. The older man had a stick or a rod or a bar in his hand, could not tell which, and as the two men tried to grab him, he hit one of the men with the bar and took a swing at the other man, who ran away. After this, the older man walked past him, and [redacted] noticed the bar in his hand, and told him to put the bar down, or he might hurt someone. He stated that the old man told him that they were trying to kill me, walked on past [redacted] and gave the bar to a guard. At this time, [redacted] stated he then ran over to where the man was lying on the cement, told the crowd to move back, and also told someone to bring a stretcher. He stated that approximately three feet from the injured man's leg, he noticed a small knife with a taped handle. He stated he noticed one of the Negro inmates picked up the knife and outdrew into the crowd.

[redacted] stated he didn't know the man involved in the fight, nor did he know how it started or why.

[redacted] picked a photograph of VALACHI from a group of eight photographs, and stated that VALACHI's photograph looked something like the man who had passed him with a bar in his hand, but that he couldn't be absolutely sure.

[] U. S. Penitentiary [] advised that the first he knew something was wrong was when he heard inmate [] yell, "Somebody stop that man from killing that man." [] stated he then looked toward the direction that [] was indicating and saw a man lying on the ground, and another white man hitting the man lying on the ground with a stick or a pipe. The man then stopped away about two or three steps, then hit the man again one or two times. [] stated he was approximately twelve feet away when this happened, but that he didn't know the man who was hit nor the man who did the hitting. He stated he noticed the man walk off and up a hill and, at that point, he ran over to where the man was lying on the ground. He stated that someone moved the man who was lying on the ground, and he could see that the man had been hit in the head with some object. He further advised that an inmate named [] picked up the victim's glasses.

[] identified a photograph of VALACHI out of a group of eight photographs as the man who did the hitting, and the photograph of SAUPP as the man who was lying on the ground with his head injured.

[redacted] Inmate Registry [redacted] was questioned concerning his knowledge of the assault made upon inmate JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP on the recreation field on the morning of June 22, 1962.

[redacted] stated that he did not witness this assault and knew nothing of it until sometime after SAUPP had been removed to the hospital. He said he was working that day on construction of the new mill building and that he was driving a tractor with a scoop on the front end of it, hauling materials. He was met by a correctional officer and told to get a load of sand and go down on the recreational field and cover up the blood spots on the ground where an inmate had been assaulted. [redacted] said he did so promptly and that he has no other information concerning this incident.

"On the morning of June 22, 1962, about 8:00 or 9:00 A.M. I was sitting in the top tier of the stadium, facing East, and playing cards. I heard some loud talking and saw one of the men doing this loud talking, step away and return with a pipe with which he struck another man from behind. I recognized the man with the pipe as Valachi as I knew him previously. At this time, I was about forty feet from this incident and had a clear unobstructed view. After Valachi struck this man from behind, he hit him again on the ground, turned to leave, and then returned and struck the victim at least two more times while he was lying on the ground. All blows with this pipe were made in the area of the head and face.

"I immediately called [redacted] and went to the aid of the victim with [redacted]. I asked [redacted] to permit me to turn the victim over as he appeared to be strangling. [redacted] told me to turn him over and I turned the victim on his side and picked up his eyeglasses which were near him in a gutter. I happened to turn from where I was talking to some friends and saw Valachi standing behind Saupp. Saupp was talking to inmate [redacted] number [redacted]. I saw Valachi with a pipe raised over his head and saw him swing this pipe and hit Saupp on the right temple from behind, knocking him to the ground. Valachi then began to leave again, saw that Saupp was still moving, and then returned and hit Saupp four more times. All six blows were around the head and face. June 28, 1962

"I, Joseph Valachi, make the following statement freely and voluntarily to Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] in the presence of [redacted]. No threats or promises have been made to me and I am aware that information I furnish will be used against me in Court. I am aware of my right to counsel of an Attorney.

"On the morning of June 22, 1962, about eight o'clock A.M. I was on the recreation field on the walk between the mill and the grandstand.

"As I was walking down this walk toward the handball court I saw inmate John or Jonnie. I had received solid information that Jonnie, who I have since learned was John Joseph Saupp, had 'branded' me as a 'rat' to numerous other inmates in this institution. This was not true as I had never been guilty of 'ratting' on anyone. To be branded a 'rat' by the inmate population means you get the 'cold shoulder' from all other inmates and possibly suffer serious physical harm. I felt that other inmates were out to kill me and I was frightened and very much wrought up.

b7C

"I saw a piece of pipe lying beside the walk on the grass. Being quite angry I picked up the piece of pipe and struck him on the right side of the head. His back was to me and I do not know the name of the inmate he was talking to at the time. He fell to the ground and I guess I went crazy for I hit him several more times on the head. I then turned and walked back toward the construction office. On the way I met an officer and I handed him the piece of pipe. I told officer that he, meaning Jonnie, had been the cause of all my troubles.

I was taken immediately to the associate warden's office where I told associate warden what I had done and that Jonnie had been the cause of all my troubles.

"The false rumors about me being a 'rat' began some two weeks ago when evidently someone informed penitentiary officials that two inmates were planning to escape by concealing themselves in the metal balance boxes on a portable crane and escape when the crane was taken outside the walls for official use in construction. One of these inmates was, I am told, [redacted] This came back to me from numerous persons and I am sure he did spread that false rumor.

"When I began hearing of these false rumors I came voluntarily to the associate warden's office and I told the officer on duty that I was 'branded' and asked to be locked up. This was on Saturday morning 8:35 AM, June 16, 1962. I remained in the associate warden's office until Wednesday morning June 20, 1962. After talking with [redacted] on Tuesday, June 19th, I was returned to population.

"On Thursday June 21st, 1962 I found out for sure that John Saupp was the one who was spreading the false rumors. I did not mean to hit him as hard as I did.

"I have read this statement and it is true to the best of my knowledge. I voluntarily affix my signature to this the fourth and last page and my initials to each of the preceding pages.

"RE: Death of 78776-A SAUPP (Assailant 82811-A VALACHI)

"To bring you up to date on what I have been able to piece together from investigating this assault on Saupp by Valachi: Saupp died at 5:24 A.M. Sunday, June 24, 1962.

"I have continued interviewing every inmate I can learn was in the vicinity. They, as a rule, will not talk. I have found a few who will, and as time goes on and so many men go through my office, I get a few results.

[redacted] [redacted] stated he was there and saw the whole thing happen. He said no word was ever spoken by Valachi or Saupp. Valachi came from the rear and struck Saupp with the pipe knocking him down. Valachi dropped the pipe and started to walk away. Saupp moved and Valachi jumped back, grabbed the pipe and struck Saupp repeatedly. Inmate [redacted] [redacted] who had been walking with Saupp intervened shouting "Do not hit him again". Valachi drew back the pipe as though to strike [redacted] [redacted] turned and ran. Valachi struck Saupp again and walked away with the pipe over his shoulder.

"I have not been able to get any information from [redacted] on my first interview with him because he claimed he had left Saupp prior to the assault. When called back today and confronted with the information I had received he still stays with his original story.

"Valachi has been flighty ever since I informed him Monday morning that Saupp had died. It is obvious that he feels no remorse or responsibility only a desire to fabricate a plan of action that will enable him to plead a lesser charge than the 1st degree indictment. He attempts to enlist me in this enterprise, trying to extract ideas on how best to do things and still not telling me anything about what really happened. He makes little slips though which help to put the pieces in place. One slip he made was in the presence of the F.B.I. agent and this was when he said in describing exactly what happened, that he had not known [redacted] [redacted] was there until he started to holler so loudly.

"I get the feeling that Valachi will fight the thing clear to the wire and never come out with a full account of the whole story. The statement he gives the F.B.I. in an effort to establish motive but no premeditation was this: He had been told, and he knew it to be true by the solidness of his informant, that he (Valachi) had been branded as a rat and that Saupp was the one who was branding him.

"I had received information on Thursday, June 14th that an escape artist [redacted] and [redacted] of Valachi, were intending to attempt an escape through the rear gate in the counter balance box of a mobile crane ("cherry picker"). I had locked these two men up over the week-end of June 15th, retaining [redacted] till now. It was on June 16th that Valachi turned himself in to A.W.B. I may have given Valachi the idea of using this as a motive by questioning him as to whether or not this was the reason he had been branded.

AT 70-1965

"This is about how things stand. I have notes on all interviews and the F.B.I. said the U. S. Attorney was requesting a group of F.B.I. agents to come out next Monday, July 2nd to interview inmates. I will help them expedite this and make my notes available."

"On June 22, 1962, at approximately 8:15 A.M., I was asked to examine inmate Saupp, Reg. No. 78776-A. Saupp, at that time, was in the Minor Surgical room on the second floor of the Hospital. When first seen, Saupp was not in contact with his surroundings, was bleeding profusely from the nose, and was seen to have multiple lacerations over the face and scalp. Upon questioning the inmates who brought the patient to the hospital, I was told these wounds resulted from blows administered to Saupp by another inmate, utilizing a metal pipe. These blows were said to have been inflicted at approximately 8:05 A.M., June 22, 1962.

"After gross examination revealed the patient to be in no immediate danger, he was transported to the X-ray Department, where multiple x-rays of the skull were obtained. These films revealed multiple fractures of the facial bones and at least two depressed fractures of the skull. One of these, the most extensive, involved the anterior portion of the left temporal bone. The other, involved the right frontal bone. Following the x-ray procedures, the patient was returned to the Minor Surgical room where he was soon examined by [redacted] findings are included in his report which is to be forwarded to your office.

"Briefly, at the end of [redacted] consultation, it was decided that the patient should be treated supportively throughout the remainder of the 22nd, and 23rd condition.

permitted, a surgical exploration should be carried out in the morning of the following day. At this time, [redacted] took over the patient's care for the remainder of the 22nd of June, 1962. A report by [redacted] will be forwarded to your office.

"I next saw Saupp at 8:00 A.M., June 23, 1962. At this time, although the patient's temperature had risen, his blood pressure, pulse and respirations were stable, and it was felt that surgical intervention was necessary. [redacted] description of the operative findings and surgical procedure will be forwarded to your office.

"I left the Hospital at 6:30 p.m., on 6/23/62 and at this time, Saupp's condition was regarded as serious and the prognosis was very guarded. I received a call from [redacted]

[redacted] at 3:15 A.M. June 24, 1962. [redacted] informed me that Saupp's condition was that his blood pressure was falling and his respirations were becoming irregular. In spite of blood replacement and other measures all vital activity ceased and the patient was pronounced dead at 5:24 A.M., June 24, 1962.

"It should be noted that Saupp was in an unconscious state from the time I first saw him until the time of his death.

was contacted and recommended we obtain x-rays of the skull. These x-rays were obtained and the patient was returned to the surgery room on "C" Ward, at which time I had his head shaved, so that I could determine the extent of soft tissue damage.

"There was a laceration over the left maxilla. The maxilla was crushed into the maxillary sinus and several bone fragments were removed. The wound was irrigated and closed with gut and black silk.

"A 1cm laceration over the left frontal area was cleaned and a compression bandage applied. Several other smaller abrasions and contusions about the face and head were cleaned and dressed.

"The patient had considerable blood loss, estimated at 1500 to 2000cc's. His eyes were swollen shut and he had blood clots in both nasal passages. He was typed

The following is a report of [redacted]
[redacted] dated June 23, 1962, which is as follows:

"Saupp - Register #78776 [redacted]
" U. S. Penitentiary Hospital

"OPERATED:
6/23/62

"Debridement of massive frontal compound comminuted fracture of both orbits, frontal and ethmoid sinuses as well as left temporal region.

"Anesthesia: Endotracheal oxygen, surital, anectine, 1% novocaine.

"Preparation: Phisohex and saline

"Operator: [redacted]

"PROCEDURE: With the patient supine on the operating table, endotracheal tube in place, the scalp was incised in coronal fashion using 2 of the left temporal lacerations as a part of the scar. Scalp was reflected down over the face and in the left temporal region beneath the muscle we found a 5cm. compound depressed skull fracture from which brain was oozing. Bony fragments were widely debrided here. The torn dura was opened a little more widely in an effort to stop gross bleeding. Brain was found to be quite tense here. There also was some solid clot in the subdural space, hence we now went to the frontal region and found in the right low fronto-orbital region a depressed skull fracture which extended on down posteriorly into the fronto-temporal region. Perforated opening was made here and the bone rongeuired away superficially. We then came onto the massive frontal fractures which extended onto both frontal sinuses, the roofs of both orbits and throughout the ethmoid bone. Brain was oozing here as well from dural lacerations and the only thing we could do was to suck away the brain as it oozed out. At one stage decompression was fairly good but again the brain would take advantage of all possible room that had been made. Bleeding from the branches of the anterior cerebral arteries was copious, the dura having been opened by connecting the various patchwork tears in the dura, the main one of which was transversely across the mid portion of the anterior fossa. Gradually a thorough debridement was carried out except for the bone at the root of the nose. This was left as a possible center for reconstruction. The walls of the sinuses were shattered in the main and all the frontal sinus membrane as well as the ethmoids exposed were stripped of their lining membranes. The arterial bleeding could finally be controlled mainly by the use of silver clips and the dura could be closed in linear fashion except for one fairly sizeable loss of dura in the right frontal region and this was patched with a 1x3cm. piece of temporal fascia. The dead space between the soft tissues of the orbit and the dura was packed with get foam strips soaked in penicillin solution, using 1,000 units of penicillin G to the cc. on the get foam packs. We now returned to the left temporal wound, found that bleeding was fairly well controlled and also temporarily the cerebral edema. Silver clips were likewise used here to produce the final control of arterial bleed and the scalp closed with interrupted 3-0 silk for the temporal muscle on either side and for the galea and 4-0 silk for the scalp. Patient tolerated the procedure none too well but was in very poor condition before we began, having required 4 bottles of blood previously and requiring 9 bottles during the procedure. The procedure itself was a troublesome one because of the excessive bleeding. Prognosis for life here is poor because of the fact that there is no way of controlling the cerebral edema which doubtless will continue. There are also possibly other clots scattered about the brain where it was thrown about inside the skull due to the terrific forces involved.

"OFFENSE: These defendants are charged in various counts of a 30 count Indictment with Violation of the Federal Narcotics Laws. They are jointly charged with Conspiracy in Count One (Title 21, U. S. C., Sections 173 and 173; Title 18, U. S. C., Section 2) and the remaining counts over substantive violations.

"Between October 1958 and May 22, 1961 these defendants conspired to import narcotic drugs for illicit distribution in the United States. Their activities extended to Canada and Italy. The ring's modus operandi involved the use of Italian immigrants who delivered suitcases and trunks made with false bottoms containing narcotics to the ring's agents at dockside in New York City. Comforters smuggled in via suitcases were lined with packages of narcotics. The cooperation of these immigrants were enlisted [redacted] [redacted] A jeep was also used to smuggle drugs into the United States.

"Stateside the principal defendants were [redacted] and [redacted] who arranged for financing and delivery of the illicit drugs from overseas and throughout the United States. Canadian contractor, namely the late Albert Agueci, arranged for delivery of the drugs from Italy to the United States group. The value of drugs seized in evidence is estimated as being in excess of $5,000,000 at retail level. This points up the magnitude of the group's operation over a period of years. "DEFENDANT'S STATEMENT: Valachi maintained that on the advice of his attorney he would not discuss the offense. Having once divested himself of this almost formal statement, the defendant went on to bitterly denounce his conviction. He denied having engaged in any conspiracy and submits that his past record virtually defeats any protestation of innocence. "I was convicted by the Jury before the trial even began."

"PRIOR CRIMINAL RECORD: F. B. I. #544 and N. Y. C. Police #B56468. Valachi terms the major part of his arrests as being 'junk arrests.' His contention is that 'what they (the police) know you, they drag you in on everything.'

"EARLY LIFE AND EDUCATION: The defendant was the second of six children, four of whom survive, born 9-26-03 in N. Y. C. to Dominick and Mary (nee Casali) Valachi. He contends that he was reared in poverty-like circumstances in upper East Harlem, a then predominantly Italian area. Valachi attributes his very early ventures into petty crime to this asserted deprivation. He postures a kind of false pride that countless worthy citizens have emanated from the same area - and points to his own failings as a quirk of fate.

"Valachi is said to have attended Galvani Junior High School (P. S. 83), Manhattan, and left of his own accord upon completion of the seventh grade.

"FAMILY DATA: According to the defendant, his father, an immigrant laborer, died in 1930 and then mother, in 1935. A brother, Anthony, currently age 60, was sent to State prison on a burglary charge 32 years ago. He was subsequently transferred to Densmore's Prison Hospital for the Criminally Insane and it is doubtful that he will ever gain release.

"RESIDENCE: The Bronx residence was purchased on 2-12-60 following the sale of their exceedingly attractive brick two family home in Yonkers. The Yonkers residence was sold for $23,000 cash and a portion of this money was utilized by the defendant to live apart from his family as a fugitive prior to his arrest and guilty plea in the Eastern District of New York. He was a fugitive from 2-60 to 6-60. Valachi acknowledges that his then immediate need of cash was the sole reason the Westchester County home was sold at well under its true value. He now verbalizes his 'regret' for putting his family to this loss.

"EMPLOYMENT AND BUSINESS HISTORY: Valachi asserts that his business is 'jukeboxes not heroin.' In 1958, he is said to have purchased 20 jukeboxes from Wurlitzer's, Tenth Avenue and Broadway, as well as from several other companies. The cost of each unit ranged from $700 to $1000. The units were purchased on credit and monthly notice came to $940. He denies ever having had to employ strong-arm methods to place his jukeboxes and cites this to be a public fiction. 'The crooks are the store owners who would just as soon throw you out to get a better rate (from a competitor).' Valachi states that his weekly net earnings were $100. "From 1954 to 1957, Valachi 'managed' the Lido Restaurant and Bar, 1362 Castle Hill Avenue, Bronx. [redacted] tends to feel that he actually had part ownership of this bar. The State Liquor Authority subsequently revoked licensing for a two year period,

"From 7-52 to 2-54, the defendant was treasurer and half owner of the Prospect Dress and Negligee Corporation, 795 Prospect Avenue, Bronx. He and [redacted] fell into default of their government taxes and the merchandise and equipment were sold at public auction.

"The defendant's early work history is without verification. He claims to have been employed in the ice business and as a scow captain aboard vessels run by [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] separate N. Y. C. concerns.

"MILITARY SERVICE: None

"PHYSICAL AND MENTAL CONDITION: Valachi stands 5'5" and is overweight at 171 pounds. He is in reasonably good health and not under doctor's care for any ailment. Prior to his sentence in the Eastern District, the defendant maintained that he was a diabetic who controlled this disease by daily dosages of insulin taken orally. A thorough physical upon his admission into Atlanta penitentiary failed to substantiate this claim. Blood serology and urinalysis both proved negative. His blood pressure is within normal range, his vision 20/20, and his heart and lungs quite normal. Obesity and 22 missing teeth appear to be the extent of his physical problems.

"Valachi scored an I. Q. (low-average intelligence) of 85 in the U. S. Public Health Service test administered at Atlanta on 6-22-60. He is a rough-spoken, direct-mannered individual who offers the impression of mental agility. His manner is seemingly candid, but the overall effect is one of calculated verbal control of his responses. Anxiety is not noticeable.

"RELIGION, INTERESTS AND ACTIVITIES: He is a less than nominal Roman Catholic who last received the Sacraments at the time of his marriage in 1932. He purportedly attends on a once yearly basis. The defendant readily admits that he at one time had a girl friend, [redacted] whom he regularly visited and supported. He maintains that she now resides somewhere in California. He terms himself a nominal gambler but an interested follower of horse racing - and the former owner of three horses: Night Dutchess, Son of Terror, and Almanso. According to [redacted] two of the horses were claimed and one died. He admits that he has been something of a rover and attributes this to a quirk of character and a pattern very early established in life.

"FINANCIAL CONDITION: Valachi maintains that he is insolvent. The defendant states that he is without assets of any kind. The Bronx residence is the [redacted] [redacted] states that not one of [redacted] 'so-called friends' have offered any monetary assistance and that [redacted] contemplates seeking factory employment in order to assist [redacted] with the home maintenance, and management.

"EVALUATION AND ANALYSIS: Joseph Valachi, age 58, is presently serving a 15 year sentence at Atlanta Penitentiary and his minimum eligibility release date is June 1970. He now stands convicted before the Court as a second narcotics violator in a case situation entirely separate and distinct from his E. D. N. Y. case.

"He has been involved in anti-social activities since age 15 and is more recent has come to be known as a high echelon narcotics trafficker.

"There is little that can be said in his favor since he has failed to demonstrate any real semblance of moral conscience and social conformity. He has never quite been in tune with the society in which he lives and at this late age there is little reason - short of infirmity - to indicate that he ever will.

"Respectfully submitted.

[] inmate, U. S. Penitentiary, Registration Number 79214, advised that he was originally sentenced to life for murder in 1953 while he was serving with the U. S. Army in Berlin, Germany. This sentence has now been reduced to 33 years and [] has been an inmate in the Atlanta Penitentiary since October, 1957.

[] stated that about 8:00 a.m. on June 22, 1962, when the fatal attack in this case occurred, he was in the bleacher area of the main baseball field, known as the Federal Baseball Diamond. [] estimated that he was about 50 to 150 yards away from where the fatal attack actually occurred. [] stated that he was just wandering around in the area of the bleachers and could not identify any other inmates who were nearby. He heard a commotion, but was unwilling to describe the exact nature of the commotion nearby, and stated that he did not even go over to the spot where the assault occurred and where many other inmates had congregated. [] stated he could not identify any other inmate who was in the vicinity of the fatal attack or who actually observed subject attack victim or his flight thereafter.

[] could furnish no information regarding subject's motive for assaulting victim and stated that he had never learned anything before or since the fatal attack on victim which might bear on subject's motivation. [] also advised that he does not now know and never has known either subject or victim personally. [] frankly stated he was not the least interested in the crime which had occurred nor in assisting the authorities in any way.

[redacted] stated that he does not know either subject or victim personally. At the time the fatal attack on victim occurred about 8:00 a.m., June 22, 1962, [redacted] was in the bleachers section in center field at the main baseball field, playing whist with three other inmates whom he could identify only as [redacted], [redacted], and [redacted]. [redacted] stated that at the time of the fatal attack involved in this case, he and his fellow card players heard no commotion and did not congregate with others at the scene of the fatal attack. At a distance [redacted] stated he saw several inmates carry a person away to the hospital on a stretcher, but he did not even know what had occurred and did not stop playing cards long enough to investigate.

[redacted] also stated that neither before or after the fatal assault on victim has he learned anything regarding subject's motive for the attack on victim. [redacted] stated that he was completely ignorant of the whole affair and believes that the only reason the guard took his name and number was because he was located by a guard sometime during the morning of June 22, 1962, in the general area where the attack occurred. [redacted] stated that he definitely was no eye witness and knows of no other inmate who actually saw subject attack victim or leave the scene after the attack.

[redacted] inmate, U. S. Penitentiary, Registration Number [redacted] advised that he is serving seven years for a narcotics violation. He was originally sentenced in New York City and has been an inmate in the Atlanta Penitentiary since March, 1960.

[redacted] does not know either subject JOSEPH VALACHI or victim JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP. On or about 8:00 a.m. on June 22, 1962, when the assault on victim by subject allegedly took place, [redacted] was at the sand lot baseball field in the recreation or yard area at the penitentiary, a considerable distance from the assault involved in this case. Neither before or since subject's assault on victim has [redacted] learned anything bearing on the motive for the attack. [redacted] did not join the crowd which assembled shortly after subject attacked victim. He naturally saw nothing of the actual attack and knows of no one in the penitentiary who actually saw subject's attack on victim.

[redacted] stated that his name and registration number were probably taken down by one of the guards on the morning of June 22, 1962, because [redacted] was in the general area where the attack occurred and might therefore have been an eye witness.

This penalty was later reduced to 15 years, and he has been confined in the Atlanta Penitentiary since 1960. [redacted] stated that he is not personally acquainted with either VALACHI or the now deceased victim SAUPP.

About 8:00 a.m. on June 22, 1962, [redacted] claims he was located in [redacted] where he had returned after breakfast. He was not released from the cell block until 9:30 a.m. on that date at which time he went to the recreation area to play handball. At this time, he learned that subject had attacked victim nearby, and he was shown the sand covered spot on the pavement where victim had apparently laid bleeding. About 10:30 to 10:45 a.m. on June 22, 1962, when [redacted] was on his way back to [redacted] from the handball courts in the recreation area, he was stopped by a guard to whom [redacted] furnished his name and registration number. [redacted] did not know at the time why his name and number were taken by the guard but later learned that all inmates in that area were identified on the morning of the fatal attack, June 22, 1962, in the belief that some of them might have been eye witnesses to the attack.

[redacted] stated that he definitely was not in the area of the fatal attack at the time it occurred and can furnish no information either from his own knowledge or hearsay bearing on subject's motivation for the attack.

Inmate Gets Life in Prison Death

An Atlanta Federal Penitentiary inmate has been sentenced to a life term in the slaying of another prisoner last month.

Joseph Valachi pleaded guilty Tuesday to second degree murder and was sentenced by Federal Judge Boyd Sloan.

He was charged in a federal indictment with the murder of 52-year-old John Joseph Saupp.

Valachi was serving a 20-year sentence on a narcotics charge at the time of the slaying. He was sentenced in January in a New York federal court and was considered one of the leaders in the state's narcotics traffic. A U.S. assistant attorney said.

OUTLINE OF OFFENSE

About 8:00 a.m. on the morning of June 22, 1962, VALACHI then an inmate of the U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, Ga., assaulted a fellow inmate, JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, by slipping up behind him and without warning striking SAUPP in the right temporal region with a 24 inch long three quarter inch galvanized water pipe with a brass faucet on the end. The first blow knocked SAUPP to the ground and crushed skull. VALACHI then struck SAUPP another blow to the head, threw the pipe down and walked several paces away, turned and looked at victim, saw that he was kicking whereupon VALACHI returned, picked up the same weapon and hit victim twice more. The above assault was witnessed by numerous inmates. Several agreed to testify. VALACHI furnished a signed confession describing above. Victim SAUPP unconscious until death at approximately 5:20 a.m. June 24, 1962.

The case was presented to a Federal Grand Jury at Atlanta, Georgia, on June 26, 1962, and a true bill of indictment returned charging VALACHI with murder in the first degree. VALACHI was arraigned in U. S. District Court, Atlanta, Georgia, June 27, 1962. He had previously requested the court appoint counsel to represent him. His request was complied with and on June 27, 1962, Judge BOYD SLOAN, U. S. District Judge, Atlanta, and entered a formal plea of not guilty. The court immediately set trial date as

U.S. Convict Gets Life For Killing

Joseph Valachi has been given a life sentence on a plea of guilty in the slaying of a fellow inmate at the Federal Penitentiary here June 22.

U.S. District Judge Boyd Sloan pronounced the sentence for second-degree murder in the slaying of John Staupp in the prison yard. Valachi was indicted for first-degree murder. He was accused of beating the 32-year-old Staupp with a piece of iron pipe. Staupp died two days after the beating of multiple fractures of the head.

Valachi's lawyer said Valachi, 39, had killed Staupp because of rumors that had been going around the prison that Valachi was "a rat" or informer, and said Valachi believed Staupp had been spreading the rumors. No evidence to this effect was presented, however, officials said.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Sparks said Valachi, who was serving a 20-year sentence for narcotics conspiracy in southern New York, and a concurrent 15-year sentence imposed in eastern New York on narcotics charges, was "reputed to be one of the large-scale narcotics operators in New York."

Enclosed herewith for New York and Atlanta are two copies each and to Kansas City one copy of letter dated 10-10-62 from the U. S. Attorney, Atlanta, Georgia, and addressed to Herbert J. Miller, Jr., Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, Department of Justice, in the matter entitled, "Possible Prosecution of [REDACTED] for Murder committed at U. S. Penitentiary."

U. S. Attorney's letter apparently prepared by AUSA J. Robert Sparks makes reference to the murder of Atlanta Federal Penitentiary inmate John Joseph Saupp by inmate Joseph Valachi on 6-22-62 and an assault committed 10-8-62 on inmate [REDACTED] by inmate [REDACTED]. The enclosed letter sets forth a theory of prosecution of [REDACTED] for the murder of Saupp based on the story told by [REDACTED] that he and Valachi had been ordered by [REDACTED] to kill [REDACTED] and because of mistaken identity, Valachi killed Saupp instead. U. S. Attorney's letter mentions that in one of Valachi's early oral statements concerning the assault on Saupp he said that he had killed the wrong man.

As both the New York and Atlanta Offices are aware, Valachi has subsequently given a detailed statement to both Agents of our New York Office and agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics to the effect that he killed Saupp by mistake but that the person he intended to kill was [REDACTED] and not [REDACTED] as alleged by [REDACTED]. It is further noted that in the U. S. Attorney's letter enclosed, [REDACTED] is alleged to have stated he was not able to participate with Valachi in the murder of [REDACTED] on the day scheduled because of notice that his, [REDACTED] other information furnished by the Atlanta Office indicates that [REDACTED]

committed at U. S. Penitentiary

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of interesting information which indicates that [redacted] formerly an inmate at the United States Penitentiary in Atlanta and now at the United States Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, may have been a principal in the recent brutal and apparently unprovoked murder of John Joseph Saupp by Joseph Valachi on June 22, 1962.

We will summarize the background of this murder. On June 22, 1962, in the U. S. Penitentiary in Atlanta, Joseph Valachi walked up to John Joseph Saupp who was talking with another inmate, [redacted] and hit Saupp a number of times with a two-foot-long iron pipe. Saupp died of these wounds. In one of Valachi's early oral statements, he said that he had killed the wrong man.

NOT RECORDED

Valachi was subsequently indicted for first degree murder in this district, and on July 17, 1962, was allowed to enter a plea of guilty to second degree murder. He was sentenced to life imprisonment on the same day. Prior to the entry of this plea, I was in constant telephonic communication with the

It appears that a very dangerous situation exists in the penitentiary in Atlanta if a bunch of hoodlums are directing that inmates be killed, and something should be done to correct this situation if it means scattering this mob throughout the Federal penitentiaries in the United States.

In view of this complicated situation, and the importance of this new evidence against [redacted] I am delaying any prosecution opinion as to [redacted] in connection with his assault upon [redacted]

It is my strong recommendation that Valachi be interviewed immediately wherever he is now confined, relative to [redacted] participation in the murder plot which led up to the killing of Saupp. I am advising the United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York of these facts by copy of this letter.

No leads are being set forth for the office of origin, it being left to the discretion of the Atlanta Office to determine the degree of veracity attached to the statements made by VALACHI re the personnel at the USP, Atlanta. However, the attention of the Atlanta Office is directed to the interview of inmate [redacted] USP [redacted] as set forth on page 27, report of SA [redacted] dated 7/13/62, captioned as above, wherein he alleged he had noted a small knife with a taped handle approximately three feet from the victim's body, which was picked up by a Negro inmate.

In the event the Atlanta Office desires to interview [redacted] it is to be noted that he was a symbol criminal informant of the NYO, and was reputedly an informant of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

It should also be noted that, according to Agent [redacted] Federal Bureau of Narcotics, [redacted] was cooperating with that Bureau and is being considered an informant of that Bureau.

In view of the above, it is felt that an interview of [redacted] former inmate at USP, Atlanta, should therefore be conducted.

On September 10, 1962, commencing at 10 AM, JOSEPH VALACHI furnished the information as set forth below. It is to be noted VALACHI, a Federal prisoner, is currently being held at the Westchester County Jail under the name JOHN DI MARCO, #1455.

VALACHI stated that he was particularly interested in setting the records straight as to his emotional stability immediately prior to the assault he made on JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, who subsequently died as a result of this assault. VALACHI stated that SAUPP was believed by him to be [redacted] whom VALACHI referred to as [redacted]. VALACHI stated that he never saw SAUPP's face, but due to his build, size and shape of head, he was positive it was [redacted] who he sincerely believed was going to kill him under the instructions of [redacted].

VALACHI advised that subsequent to his sentencing by the United States District Court Judge in the Southern District of New York, he went by bus from the Federal House of Detention to the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg in May of 1962. Prior to leaving West Street, a co-defendant of VALACHI's, by name [redacted] had told VALACHI to treat [redacted] nice. [redacted] was another co-defendant. He and [redacted] were on the bus from West Street to Lewisburg and during the trip he had no contact with [redacted]. He stated he had no contact with [redacted] at Lewisburg, from which both were transferred to the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia.

Upon arrival at Atlanta, VALACHI was asked by [redacted] to come into the same cell with him, which [redacted] was a [redacted] to do as a result of [redacted] chop and was then moved from [redacted] to [redacted], winding up [redacted]

After a short time in the cell, [redacted] became aware of an atmosphere of distrust of him [redacted] whom he described as the person he most respected and who [redacted] VALACHI stated that this, in his way of thinking, was brought about by the fact [redacted], shortly after their arrival in Atlanta and upon learning that VALACHI [redacted] had asked VALACHI to find out from [redacted] if [redacted] could talk to [redacted] VALACHI stated he attempted to obtain [redacted] permission for this conversation with [redacted], but that [redacted] stalled VALACHI saying he did not want to talk to [redacted] but would have someone else do it, suggesting to VALACHI, [redacted], an inmate from Buffalo, New York.

It is to be noted that [redacted] true name is [redacted] On the same evening [redacted] changed his mind and instructed VALACHI that he would have [redacted] speak to [redacted] and later the same evening after further consideration by [redacted] who requested VALACHI's opinion as to what he could do, again changed his mind and told VALACHI that he would let him know.

VALACHI told [redacted] what had transpired.

[redacted] held a subsequent conversation with VALACHI regarding [redacted], at which time [redacted] told VALACHI he did not wish to talk to [redacted] [redacted] then inquired of VALACHI how long and where [redacted] was an organization member. VALACHI stated he did not have this information for [redacted] and was instructed by [redacted] to find out.

In conversation with [redacted] VALACHI determined that [redacted] had been a member in Italy and arrived in the United States two years later and in response to a question, as to whom [redacted] was with, [redacted] responded [redacted] in Buffalo whom [redacted] did not know, having only met the under-boss [redacted]

VALACHI relayed this information to [redacted] who made no comment.

A few days later while in the shower room, VALACHI was approached by a [redacted] whose last name he did not know, who told him that [redacted] had just left the shower room where he had talked with an individual referred to by [redacted] as "that grease ball" and whom VALACHI immediately inferred was [redacted]. [redacted] told VALACHI that "The grease ball had ruined you" and in response to VALACHI's question "He talked to [redacted]" [redacted] replied "Yeah".

At this point VALACHI stated that he recalled a conversation he had with [redacted] with whom he was hiding out in Toronto, Canada, prior to his conviction, in which [redacted] stated to VALACHI, "Never say anything in front of [redacted] which VALACHI stated was a result of a conversation between he and [redacted] concerning how untrustworthy [redacted] was.

On a Thursday night in May, 1962, while standing in the courtyard in the vicinity of the bocci court, VALACHI stated he was called over to the game by [redacted] whom he refers to as [redacted] to play bocci ball with [redacted] and four new inmates to the prison whom VALACHI did not know. VALACHI stated he spied [redacted] standing approximately 30 feet away and when [redacted] noted that he had been observed by VALACHI, [redacted] hollered out in the courtyard in the presence of all in the game and the other inmates standing around an expression in Italian which VALACHI translated to mean "Rat bastard, you ruined 100 families. You gave them the telephone number. [redacted] told me."

VALACHI stated he ignored [redacted] despite the fact that he and everyone at the bocci game heard this insult to him which connoted to VALACHI that he was an informer, which was not true. VALACHI stated that if he re-acted according to his code, he would have had to kill [] right then.

[] invited [] to play with him and the others in the bocci ball game and [] made a great show of physically avoiding or coming near to VALACHI, further creating the impression that VALACHI was an informer. The cell block bell sounded shortly thereafter and they all returned to their cells.

On Friday afternoon, while VALACHI was in his cell, two cellmates with whom he was very friendly, [] and [] whom VALACHI described as part Italian from Boston, were taken from the cell and put into solitary confinement, which VALACHI states was the work of [] who did not want VALACHI to have any friends close by. VALACHI said he was raving in his cell that night accusing [] of having them locked up so that he would be friendless.

VALACHI stated that prior to [] being locked up in solitary confinement, possibly on Thursday night before, [] in the presense of [] stated, "It is a good thing I always use judgment when someone tells me something." Then making a reference to a bushel of apples, added, "One gets touched and goes bad, it's got to be taken out." Shortly after this conversation with realization that [] had talked to [] and in view of [] accusations of VALACHI being an informer publicly made in the courtyard, VALACHI stated that he lost his respect for [] as well as his fear of [] when [] kissed VALACHI and [] made the remark to VALACHI "the kiss of death".

On Saturday morning VALACHI stated that to save his life he talked to the officer in charge of the mess hall and asked that he be sent to the hospital. This occurred at approximately 7 AM and he was instructed to return to his bunk until 8 AM, at which time he would go to the hospital. Realizing that the stay in the hospital would not be a safe place, he asked a prison guard, [] (phonetic), to be placed in solitary confinement, which VALACHI referred to as "the hole" and was told by [] that he could not be placed there without a reason. VALACHI said to [] "They want to kill me. Is that a good enough reason?"

VALACHI stated that [] was going to take him to the warden but the warden was not at the prison. He then asked [] if there was anybody he could talk to to get placed in "the hole" and [] had a lieutenant speak to VALACHI, after which VALACHI went into solitary confinement where he stayed for approximately four or five days.

That Saturday night a parole officer named [] had VALACHI called out of solitary and asked him if he wanted to say anything or wanted to see anybody, to which VALACHI replied he wanted to talk to the FBI. According to VALACHI, [] wanted VALACHI to give him a name of someone in the FBI, but VALACHI did not know any name to give him. He finally asked to speak to [] of the Narcotics Bureau. According to VALACHI, [] wrote [] name on a paper which he placed in his wallet stating he would get in touch with [] on the following Monday morning.

VALACHI stated that while he was in solitary and just prior to [] being released from solitary, he talked with [] telling him about [] false accusation, and asked [] if he knew of it or was in on it since VALACHI felt this was a plan instigated and set up by [] [] comment was, "Listen, I'm glad to see you in 'the hole'", which meant to VALACHI that [] was convinced that VALACHI was to be killed. VALACHI stated he was beserk while in solitary, yelling and screaming and saying that he was going to blow his top.

Just before [] left solitary he talked to VALACHI and told him that "Everything is OK. Get yourself out of 'the hole'".

VALACHI stated that on Wednesday afternoon he was asked if he "wished" to remain in solitary in such a manner that forced him to leave solitary and return to his same cell. Enroute to his cell he met [] who reminded him that he had not changed his clothes as required by prison regulations, and that [] suggested that he change his clothes the following day. VALACHI said that this meant to him that [] was one of the individuals who was trying to get him in a place where he would be alone and that he walked away from [] saying, "I'll be there tomorrow". He also stated that in the yard he met [] and approached him to ask him regarding his remarks concerning [] accusation to [] which [] hollered out in the yard but that [] shrugged it off and gave him no answer. That night in the cell [] told [] he had spoken to [] and [] spoke out saying, "Anyone calls me a rat I'll kill him". [] stated he did not get in on this conversation but that approximately 10 minutes later he approached [] in the cell and said "That's nice what you do. Can I clip this guy?". [] said to him "Now you're talking. Make sure you don't get caught".

VALACHI stated he took this conversation to mean that [] had no objections to him killing [] which he wanted to do because of [] false accusation. The following night [] came to him in the cell and said to him, "Didn't I tell you not to ----- around?", and when VALACHI inquired as to what he meant, [redacted] growled at him, "parole officer". VALACHI stated he knew then that his conversation with the parole officer had been made public knowledge to the inmates and that when [redacted] wanted him to go to the movies with him that night he refused. Instead he went into the yard feeling that he would not last out the day, believing that this was the day he was to be killed. While in the yard he met the same [redacted] from Brooklyn, that he had previously met in the shower room. [redacted] who approached him and asked VALACHI to tell him the truth. [redacted] told me to talk to you. If you said anything tell me. I'll help you". VALACHI asked [redacted] "Did [redacted] say anything to you?". Then [redacted] remarked, "Look, do you want me to get in trouble?".

Walking in the yard VALACHI saw a length of pipe laying loose in the yard, which is extremely unusual because it could be used as a weapon, and looking at the many faces around him, recognizing [redacted] and others, he picked up the pipe to defend himself when they made motions as if they had weapons inside their pants. He stated it was then he saw the individual he believed to be [redacted] but whose face he did not see, and hit him with the pipe. Immediately after this assault he said he held at bay all the other inmates whom he named previously and whom he believed were going to kill him. After the pipe was taken from him he was placed in a cell still believing that he had hit [redacted]. He did not realize he had hit another man by mistake.

VALACHI stated that [redacted] told him that they were trying to keep SAUPP alive and informed him that the FBI was there to talk to him.

On September 15, 1962, JOSEPH VALACHI advised that while he was in Atlanta Penitentiary, eating in the mess hall with [redacted] (Phonetic), a man came over from [redacted] table and introduced himself as [redacted] who had recently arrived there from Sing-Sing Prison in New York. He told VALACHI he brought greetings from [redacted] also known as [redacted] by VALACHI, [redacted] and [redacted] personally known to VALACHI.

VALACHI stated he became suspicious of [redacted] because of this approach, for the usual method is to be introduced by a common acquaintance. He was especially concerned because [redacted] came directly over to him from [redacted]

VALACHI also recalled that [redacted] was present when [redacted] called out his false accusation at the bocci game in the court yard, and [redacted] played as VALACHI's partner.

After VALACHI returned to the yard the day he left solitary confinement, he was walking in the yard with [redacted] also known as [redacted] by VALACHI. He stated [redacted] warned him against [redacted] telling him of a conversation overheard by [redacted] between [redacted] and [redacted] in which [redacted] told [redacted] to "Lay low for awhile and don't talk to me for awhile." The conversation, according to [redacted] was held while both [redacted] and [redacted] were staring at VALACHI.

VALACHI added that it is his belief that [redacted] was the one given the contract to kill VALACHI by [redacted]. He also stated that [redacted] and [redacted] would be the ones who would know he was to be killed because they were members of the organization.

VALACHI also related that while walking in the yard on the day of the assault on JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP, he spied the length of pipe placed in the grass immediately off the walk, against the base of the building. He stated it was unusual to see a weapon, or object that could be used as a weapon, and for that reason he paced back and forth in the immediate area, believing it was put there to use on him. When he saw a man he believed to be [redacted], whom he also knows as [redacted] walking toward the partly hidden length of pipe, VALACHI ran to pick it up to defend himself from what he believed was to be an assault on him. He stated he struck SAUPP with the pipe believing him to be [redacted] because of similar height, body build, thinning hair and glasses. VALACHI also stated that he never saw SAUPP's face, being blinded by fear for his own life and believing he was striking out against one of his own intended murderers.

He related that after the assault he retained the pipe in his hand, looking to be attacked by others he named above. He said he only saw many faces, not recognizing anyone distinctly, but was told by friends that [redacted] and [redacted] were trying to get at him. He recalls refusing to surrender the pipe to a prison guard in the yard.

VALACHI, returning to [redacted] use of [redacted] to accuse him of informing, stated that while at Lewisburg, prior to being sent to Atlanta, a co-defendant, [redacted] got possession of a knife and was going to stab [redacted] until stopped by VALACHI, who was acting on the request of another co-defendant, [redacted] to treat [redacted] nice.

b6

VALACHI stated that after the assault on SAUPP, he was returned to solitary confinement and there became friends with another inmate whom he called [redacted]. He related that this [redacted] promised to try to get word out of the prison so that VALACHI could be contacted by authorities. VALACHI recalled [redacted] prison number as [redacted].

VALACHI advised that his attorney for the guilty plea was [redacted], an attorney in Atlanta, Georgia. He stated [redacted] wanted him to plead guilty, advising him that "They would not let anyone see you unless you plead." A United States Marshal had also told him the same thing.

Concerning [redacted] prison number [redacted] above, VALACHI stated that they became friendly when the other inmate swapped food trays with him because he refused to eat for fear of being poisoned. This inmate volunteered to get word out of the prison to the Attorney General for VALACHI to prevent VALACHI's death and arrange for VALACHI's cooperation with authorities outside the prison. This inmate also protested VALACHI's escort of one guard across the prison yard and from VALACHI's trips to court. VALACHI stated he trusted this inmate and believes this inmate could substantiate a great deal of his story re events at the prison, as well as furnish identities of those who knew of weapons in the possession of inmates feared by VALACHI as his intended murderers.

Attention of the Bureau and New York is directed to psychiatric report made by [redacted] Atlanta, Ga., 7/11/62, in connection with the pending prosecution at that time of VALACHI for murder. Primary purpose of this psychiatric examination was to determine whether or not VALACHI was capable of understanding the charges against him. As set forth on page 6, last paragraph, and top of page 7, rerep of SA [redacted], [redacted] stated:

"Subject is suffering from a paranoid state and generalized and cerebral arteriosclerosis. Whether his paranoid state and ideas of being branded and called an informer by other inmates have any basis in fact this physician does not know. At the present time he is considered to be not psychotic. He understands the proceedings against him; he is able to intelligently advise with counsel, assist in his own defense, and stand trial.

Valachi stated that he did not trust [redacted] because of the conversation he had had with [redacted] whom he also named as a member of this group, and as a result of an incident concerning this conversation.

He pointed out that shortly after his arrival in the United States Penitentiary, Atlanta, while in the mess hall with [redacted] and [redacted] he had related [redacted] conversation to [redacted] and [redacted] became incensed, stating, [redacted] told you that. Did he tell you that? I would slap his (obscene) face, that (obscene)."

Valachi stated that, when he had learned of the plan to kill him, he asked for solitary confinement. While in solitary confinement, prior to the assault on Saupp, he requested a parole officer that [redacted] of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics be informed that Valachi wanted to talk to him. Before he left this period of solitary confinement, [redacted] allegedly told Valachi that [redacted] was aware of Valachi's request.

A cellmate of Valachi's, [redacted] subsequent to Valachi's release from solitary confinement, stated to Valachi, "Didn't I tell you not to (obscene) around." Valachi advised he questioned [redacted] regarding this statement, and [redacted] growled, "Parole Officer." Valachi stated that he was then certain that Associate [redacted] had passed the word of his attempt to contact [redacted] to [redacted] and that other inmates were aware of this information.

Subsequent to the assault by Valachi on Saupp, he was returned to solitary confinement, where Valachi alleged he was questioned by [redacted] concerning the assault. Valachi stated that [redacted] became angry with him when he refused to talk to him about the assault. He added that [redacted] stated, "You must have a story. Let's have it." Valachi added that he answered with a question, "What story?" and [redacted] replied, "You were accused of putting [redacted] and [redacted] (phonetical) in the hole. Is that what you want me to understand?" Valachi stated he could not understand the statement or the reason for it.

[redacted]
United States Penitentiary

b6

According to Valachi, [redacted] continually baited him during the period he was awaiting court action, concerning the assault, in an attempt to induce Valachi to plead guilty in court. He cited remarks made by [redacted] such as, "You're talking to [redacted] assistants," when his only company to and from court were United States Marshals.

Valachi related that after he was in contact with his attorney he advised the attorney to inform [redacted] of Valachi's desire to talk to him. He was questioned by [redacted] allegedly in the presence of an Assistant United States Attorney, concerning the identity of a Federal Bureau of Narcotics Agent, which Valachi refused to disclose. According to Valachi, [redacted] stated, "I'm going to fix you up so even the President can't help you."

Valachi stated he understood this last statement to mean that in some way [redacted] was going to attempt to influence his sentence, pointing out that it is his belief that [redacted] was influenced by [redacted] and the Italian hoodlums in the United States Penitentiary, Atlanta.

Valachi also advised that [redacted] had not enjoyed any special privileges prior to the assignment of Associate [redacted] to the United States Penitentiary, Atlanta. After [redacted] arrival, [redacted] was assigned to cleaning a room in which there was a television set and that all [redacted] did was watch television, relating to his cellmates what he had seen on television.

Joseph Valachi, on October 30, 1962 and November 1, 1962, advised that during the period between his assault on John Joseph Saupp in the United States Penitentiary, Atlanta, on June 22, 1962, and the date he was sentenced, July 17, 1962, he was informed by J. Robert Sparks, that he would not be allowed to speak to anyone until he pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with murder.

Valachi advised that prior to the assault he had requested a parole officer in the penitentiary to contact [redacted] of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, whom Valachi wished to talk to.

After the assault, Valachi advised his attorney of this request, and was expecting to be contacted by [redacted]

Valachi also related that J. Robert Sparks and [redacted] of the United States Penitentiary, Atlanta, questioned him as to the identity of a Federal Bureau of Narcotics agent which Valachi refused to disclose. He stated that Sparks told him he could not see this agent until he had pleaded guilty, and [redacted] stated, "I'm going to fix you up so even the President can't help you." Valachi stated this remark was made in the presence of J. Robert Sparks.

With regard to the Atlanta Office's reference to the NYO affording VALACHI a psychiatric examination, there is no existing reason to do so known to the NYO. No such examination has been afforded VALACHI and none is being considered.

The Atlanta Office has requested the NYO to furnish Los Angeles necessary information to interview [redacted] [redacted] subject of Los Angeles file [redacted] Atlanta file [redacted]

For the information of Los Angeles, [redacted] was the individual who, as an inmate at USP, Atlanta, [redacted] JOSEPH VALACHI and [redacted] the Attorney General [redacted] VALACHI was in a position and desirous of cooperating.

According to VALACHI, [redacted] is in a position to substantiate the treatment he was accorded by inmates and prison officials while awaiting trial for the assault on SAUPP who subsequently died. VALACHI purportedly believed he was to be murdered by members of "Causa Nostra" in USP, Atlanta, on the orders of [redacted] as a result of accusations leveled at VALACHI by inmate [redacted] that VALACHI was an informer. VALACHI stated he believed SAUPP to be [redacted] aka [redacted] and assaulted him from the rear with a pipe that VALACHI thought DI PALERMO (SAUPP) was going to use on VALACHI.

In the event [redacted] is cooperative, Los Angeles should attempt to determine complete details of what he saw or was told by VALACHI during the period he was in USP, Atlanta, with particular attention to the period subsequent to the assault.

LA is also requested to direct results of [redacted] interview to NY file 92-1459, captioned "JOSEPH VALACHI, aka; AR", as well as to the Atlanta matter under caption of this airtel.

[redacted], who is currently confined in the Orange County Jail, Santa Ana, California, awaiting prosecutive action on charges of Interstate Transportation of a Stolen Motor Vehicle, advised he met JOE VALACHI in late 1959 or early 1960 when VALACHI first came to the United States Penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia. [redacted] continued he knew VALACHI as one of the inmates, but never associated with him or had much to do with him until both VALACHI and he [redacted] after VALACHI had killed JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP.

[redacted] said that while VALACHI and he were confined in the prison lock-up for about six weeks, VALACHI and he became friendly. VALACHI told him he was unhappy with a number of people in the "Sundicate" because the big men in the narcotics racket had let him "carry the load" on the narcotics matter for which he was convicted. [redacted] claimed VALACHI did not fully confide in him as to just who he was unhappy with.

[redacted] said that VALACHI claimed he had been offered a deal by a Federal Agent, name not known, but believed by [redacted] to be a Narcotics Bureau Agent. VALACHI claimed he had not taken the deal because he feared reprisal action against him family. VALACHI told [redacted] that he wanted to make a deal with the Federal Government but that he desired to have a middle man in whom he could confide what he knew of murders, narcotics, traffic and general vice activities. He wanted this middle man to be the one to pass the information on to the Government rather than to give it himself.

[redacted] maintained that VALACHI was testing him during this period and that VALACHI did not give him specific details.

[redacted] said that VALACHI was extremely concerned for his life during this period. VALACHI would not leave his cell unless he had a number of guards around him. He was afraid to eat for fear of being poisoned. For this reason, [] VALACHI on many occasions. For the same reason, [] wrote a letter to the U. S. Attorney General requesting that a representative of the Attorney General from Washington, D.C. contact VALACHI at the U. S. Penitentiary in Atlanta in order that VALACHI might exchange his information concerning the "Syndicate" in hopes of getting more lenient treatment in court and getting protection in prison. He was fearful that if he furnished information to anyone from the Atlanta area that the word he had talked would get back to [] and the group in the penitentiary and that he would be killed.

[] said he also arranged with the guards in the penitentiary that several of them accompany VALACHI whenever VALACHI was taken from his call block in order that VALACHI would not be harmed.

[] claimed he has no personal knowledge of what took place as the events led up to the killing of SAUPP by VALACHI. He said that VALACHI could not be told he had furnished information, that VALACHI had told him SAUPP was not the man he had wanted to kill. He also said he did not want VALACHI to know he had told that VALACHI had sworn to kill [] if he got the opportunity.

According to [] he has no personal knowledge of just what the events were that led to the killing of SAUPP. He denied he had witnessed the event or any of the events that led up to the incident.

[] said VALACHI was convinced that [] had some sort of an arrangement with the [] of the U. S. Penitentiary at Atlanta and possibly with another man, not identified, who is of rank about equal to []. [] said he did not know just what convinced VALACHI there was a connection between [] and the prison officials, but it is his impression the conviction was based on comments made to VALACHI by the officials after VALACHI killed SAUPP.

[] said that during the time [] was at the penitentiary, he personally saw a go-between, whose name he claimed he did not recall, pick up a bundle from the green house next to the Associate Warden's office on innumerable occasions. This bundle was taken by the go-between to []. The bundle contained Italian Pepperoni, salami and other Italian delicacies. The delicacies could not be purchased in the penitentiary, and they were not available in the kitchen. [] concluded that on the basis of this, some official had to bring the items in and make them available. He continued that if this was going on when [] was there, it had to be still going on in behalf of [] as it is his under-standing [] is superior to [] in the "Syndi-cate."

[] said that among VALACHI's apprehensions was concern for the safety of his family. [] continued [] had come to Atlanta to see VALACHI. She was fol-lowed to Atlanta by some member of the "syndicate" whose name was not known to [].

On another occasion, VALACHI had the attorney who defended him at his trial on the narcotics violation come to Atlanta to see him. This attorney is a man named [] (phonetic) who has offices at 25 Wall Street in New York. The attorney was accompanied to Atlanta by an unidentified official in the syndicate who came to find out whether VALACHI had done any talking.

[] said he would like to help VALACHI all that he could. He continued, however, that his knowledge is limited to what VALACHI told him. He said he had wanted to see VALACHI get a square deal and to be protected, and it was for this reason that he had done what he did in an effort to help VALACHI.

For information of the United States Attorney, Atlanta, VALACHI has stated that one [] U. S. Penitentiary, Atlanta, [] could substantiate a part of the information furnished by him.

[redacted], advised JOSEPH VALACHI did not confide in him to any great degree when both were confined together at the United States Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, after VALACHI killed JOHN JOSEPH SAUPP.

[redacted] said VALACHI told him that SAUPP was not the man he wanted to kill. VALACHI continued that it was his understanding that [redacted] had ordered his, VALACHI's, death, and that VALACHI was very concerned for his safety. VALACHI told [redacted] that he had been pressured by the [redacted] of the penitentiary, and by the psychiatrist from downtown Atlanta who had been brought in to give VALACHI a psychiatric examination to plead guilty. VALACHI told [redacted] that he had cursed out both [redacted] and the psychiatrist, but he did not go into detail as to what they had said to him or how they had tried to pressure him.

According to [redacted] VALACHI said he had chased [redacted] after he had killed SAUPP. However, he was not successful in catching [redacted]

VALACHI, according to [redacted] was very concerned about his safety. He would not leave his cell unless he was heavily guarded. VALACHI was made extremely suspicious that someone in the penitentiary was in collusion with the people who desired his death. His suspicion was occasioned by the fact that he had to be outfitted for clothing each time he was taken out for interview or for court. [redacted] said this was adequate cause for suspicion because normally, when it is known that an inmate will be taken out on more than one occasion, the first outfit of clothing is kept until there is no further reason for the inmate to be taken out.

[redacted] concluded he desires to help VALACHI in every way he can. He continued he personally had contacted a guard whom he knew he could trust to warn [redacted] that effort would be made to kill VALACHI, and to put

On February 28, 1963, Assistant United States Attorney ALLEN L. CHANCEY, JR., Northern District of Georgia, Atlanta, Georgia, orally advised Special Agent [redacted] that after a careful study of all the facts in this case that he was unable to find sufficient evidence to substantiate allegations that [redacted] was in any way responsible for the murder of inmate JOHN SAUPP, United States Penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia, by inmate JOSEPH VALACHI, and for this reason he was declining prosecution as to [redacted] as being an accomplice to or responsible for said murder.

Assistant United States Attorney CHANCEY confirmed his opinion by letter dated February 28, 1963, received March 1, 1963, which is quoted below:

"This will refer to your letter dated February 25, 1963, advising that [redacted] is desirous of an early prosecutive opinion in this case so that determination can be made by the Bureau of Prisons as to disposition of [redacted]

"As you know, this office has withheld rendering a prosecutive opinion in this case pending a final determination as to whether a case might be made against [redacted] for complicity in the murder of John Joseph Saupp by Joseph Valachi. After careful review of the investigative reports in this case and in the case of Joseph Valachi, it does not appear that any case against [redacted] will be possible. In addition, this office is of the opinion that prosecution of [redacted] for assault upon [redacted] is not worthwhile in view of the minor injury inflicted, the psychiatric background of [redacted] and the light punishment imposed in cases of this nature by this Court in the past. Therefore, this file is being closed in this office without prosecution."

In view of the opinion of the United States Attorney, no further investigation is being conducted.
